More than 150 entrepreneurs participated in this seminar. Dr KN Nandurkar, the Principal of the Engineering College, started the programme with an introduction.

Dr PK Shahababkar, the Training Placement Officer, shared his thoughts on 'Industry Leaders Summit 3.0'. The dignitaries also paid tributes to Late Balasaheb Wagh, the founder president of the organisation.

The seminar mainly focused on important topics, including discussions on major issues between industries and institutions, the development of skills required by the industry, adapting to changing technology and market needs, and taking positive steps toward the Atmanirbhar Bharat campaign, emphasising the creation of new industries and entrepreneurs, and generating future employment opportunities.

The focal points of the seminar were digital transformation and industry, research and technology, industrial development and promotion, challenges of sustainable development, economic policies, and the future of industry and intellectual development.

An exhibition was also organised in this summit where various projects prepared by students from KK Wagh Colleges were presented.

Prof Snehal Chaudhary and Prof Ruchita Gaidhani anchored the programme, while Principal PT Kadve proposed the vote of thanks.
